HOW TO REDEEM LAND SOLD TO THE STATE FOR TAXES.—It will be seen by the following letter from the Attorney General to the Secretary of State that among other things the Legislature at the recent session has extended the time for the redemption of land sold to For the South Atlantic and East the State for taxes until 1st January, clearing weather, warm southwest veering to cold r northwest winds generally higher pressure. special inducements are offered:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
RALEIGH, March 22, 1879. TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

I have the honor to reply to your's of 1879, in regard to the extension of requesting my opinion upon the acts of 1879, in regard to the extension of time for redemption of land, and for the relief of land owners, and will dispose of the points in the order in which they are presented by your communication:

1. Do you begind the acts in conflict with each other?

The act entitled "for the relief of landowners whose land has been sold to the State for taxes," provides that if within a year from its ratification the party pay to the Tressurer the taxes due at time of sale and also the taxes that may have accured since the sale, that may have accured since the sale, and 10 per cent. on amount due at time of sale, the Secretary shall execute a deed of reconveyance, etc. Ratified March 13, 1879.

The act entitled "to extend the time to redeem land so'd for texes and bought by the State "simply extends the time for redemption until January 1st, 1881, but upon the condition of and the per cent. required by law, and also all such taxes as would have been due upon the land had no sale taken place, etc. Ratified March 13, 1875. The settled rule for the construction of statutes relating to the same subject matter is to view then together, as a whole, and if possible to carry out the legislative intent. And unless it plainly appears that they are in conflict with he constitution, effect should be given to them, and each of them, because it is they should not be a nullity. After a firmed. careful consideration of these acts above By ASHE, J. cited, I think they are reconcilable for the reasons hereinafter stated. 2. What per cent. is the delinquent to pay prior to March 13, 1880; and what after that date and prior to Januarv 1st, 1871? Under the act "for the relief of land owners," one year is given for redemption. If the delinquent avails himself By Dillard, J. -Breton is the lace of the passing of its benefits he is required to pay 10 The Legislature seems to have intended to favor those who would redeem in one year after the ratification of the -The 'a lies are commencing to act, by reducing the per cent. required put out their flowers and plants in their by the general law, that is to say, if the Chowan; appeal dismissed. redemption was perfected prior to March 13, 1880. After which date the act expires by its own limitation, and no further indulgence could be had under it.

the time to redeem" can operate in full force without conflict with the other, and both can have a chance to contribute to the relief of delinquent taxpayers. It must be observed however, that the terms upon which redemption is had under the last mentioned act are not so favorable; for if the year elapses as provided in the first mentioned act, Monday the 24th inst. A special venin that the terms upon which redemption the per cent. to be paid is that "required by law." And the law says it Solicitor Collins with Mr. J. M. Griz-So, the conclusion is, if a delinquent re-deem prior to March 13, 1880, he is re-required to pay 25 per cent. party with the title to the land redeemed. The Legislature has pre-scribed the mode of doing it, and I take it that whatever is directed to be done should be done. Therefore during the year ending March 13, 1880, the Secretary should execute the deed as provided in the first mentioned act; and in order to conduce to the reconciliation of the apparently conflicting statutes on this subject. I think he should device a convenient method of releasing the party by a quit-claim deed of the State," "to be endorsed upon the deed conveying the property to the State," (after cancellation.) and affix $35,000 worth of old bonds were his seel, returning the papers to bresented to the Treasury yesterday for redemption. The total amount so far same on the books in his office.

After the 13th of March 1880, the mode prescribed in acts of 1876-'77 chap. 155, sec, 34, may be again resorted to in order to effectionate this purpose-re-investing the party on payment of amount due.
3 "What amount of taxes is to be paid under each act to entitle the party to a reconveyance?" This question is more difficult of determination than those already considered. But as I have attempted to reconcile the acts upon the idea that more favorable terms could be had under the first act, it may not be a stained construction to say that in addition to the reduction in per centage, the Legislature intended to offerer a further inducement by requiring payment of only the amount of taxes due at time of sale. And strength is added to this view in the fact that the occurred, &c.; and in the further fact that by its title the act meant a fore I think that during the year ending March 13, 1880, the party should be required to pay only the amount due at time of sale and 10 per cent. thereon, and costs, &c.

After said date and before January 1, 1881, he will be required to pay "all taxes due upon the land at time of sale" together with 25 per cent; "and also all such taxes as would been due had no sale taken place." Hoping these views may aid you in arranging the details to carry out these acts. I am, ve. y respectfully, THOS S, KENAN,

WASHINGTON, March, 23. A Democratic caucus will be neld to-morrow or next day. At this caucus the order of business for the extra session will be decided. The present audications are that Congress will remain in session for a "month or six weeks." Yesterday the caucus commit-tees of the Seasts and House met to-ge her. Two questions were brought to the attention of the joint committee. The repeal of the laws which permit Federal office holders to manipulate elections and the advisability of transthe House Committee favored the repeal of the election laws, with certain modifications, in the Legislative, Executive and Judicial and Army Appropriation bills. Two gentlemen, Messrs. Springer and Cox, first desired an attempt to be made to repeal those laws in separate bills. All but three members of the Committee favored "general legislation" at the extra session pending the final disposition of the ap-propriation pills. In joint session after much discuss on respecting the repeal of the election laws, the Committee agreed to insist upon the repeal of section 2,020 and all of the succeeding sections down to and including section 2.027, and section 5,522 of the Revised Statutes in the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Appropriation bill. A less radical change than was contained in the bill which failed last session is recommended in the hope of effecting a compromise with the Republicans. The repeal of the sections numbered above all relieve the election laws of much of their iniquity. There will then be no chief supervisors or special or general deputy marshal of elections. Section 5,522, which the Democrats propose to repeal, provides that every person, with or without authority or process, who obstructs, hinders, assaults, bribes or solicits any supervisor, marshal or deputy marshal in the performance of any duty required of them by law at the polls or places of registry, shall be liable to instant arrest without process, and be imprisoned for not more than two years, nor fined not to exceed $3,000. The Committee will recommend the caucus to repeal those sections of the statutes which, under prescribed regulations, permit the appointment of of law, for political purposes. The only restriction to be placed upon the method of appointing supervisors of election is that they shall be residents of the polling precinct in which they are designated to serve.

There was a decided division between the Committee of the House and the Committee of the Senate on the question of general legislation at the pres-ent session. The House Committee, with three exceptions, was of the opinion that the country needs relief, and that general legislative business should be transacted until the appropriation bills are passed. The Senate conferees, excepting Mr. Thurman, thought that the country wanted to be relieved of Congress, and that no legislation outside of the appropriation bills should be entered upon, unless some exceptional mensure like the Yellow Fever bill imperatively demanded action. A sub-committeeman was appointed on the points in dispute, also to decide whether affirmative legislation concerning the election laws, as proposed in Mr. Springer's bill shall be had.

The debate in committee indicated that the House will proceed with general legislation and that the Senate will not. Bills passed by the House will be allowed to rest in the Senate committees until the regular session next December. The clause prohibiting the use of troops at the polls wil be retained in the Army bill. The sections of the Election laws the section authorizing the appoint-ment of two supervisors of different politics to serve in a testimonial campacity at each poll as witnesses of the count of votes is retained. The Comnittee is authorized to araw up provisions for the total repeal of the ju-rors' test oath and the presence of troops at the polls for incorporation in the Legislative, Judicial, and Executive, and the Army Appropriation bills, and other provisions to secure

FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS. Mr. Springer's propostion to provide, in addition to the repeal of the law concerning the presence of troops at e polls, for the enactment of the existing English statute of George 11, on that suject, was very favorably received and the joint sub-Committee will probably recommend its adoption. It prohibits any soldier stationed within two miles of a voting place from leaving his quarters on an election day, excep to relieve guard or to go to the polls to vote, and requires him in the latter case to return to his quarters immediately afterwards

IF THE New York papers would print a map showing the present political complications in that city it might assist the people in general to an understanding of them. So far the experiment.

MR. SAMUEL J. TILDEN has just made an important financial movement. He has quietly sold out all his interest in the elevated roads, making some $2,000-000 to $4,000,000, and, in connection with Moses Taylor, has placed in Albany, for the use of the Albany lobby, $250,000, for the purpose of passing the bill authorizing the towing of canalboat, by steam in the canals.

THE Massachusetts Legislature is a "reform" body. It has gone into reform in eachest, having cut down the pay of its own membors. A bill is now before it to reduce court expenses still more, until they are brought down to the moderate sum of $70,000 a year for the whole State. Cheap enough for the richest State in the Union.

THE third term for Grant has been Ind by a Grant campaign club, which was formed there last week. The rich ald declares that the movement has met with unexpected popular sympathy among the Republicans, and believes party of Indiana.

THE Newton Enterprise has the following morsel for the Robinson Committee.

"One of the most contemptible things that the last Legislature did while in session, was to appoint a committee to find out who wrote certain articles which appeared in one of the Raleigh dailies while this great gang of law makers was in session. This, we say, was contemptible, because it was simply none of its business."

Legislature and the Ruleigh Nens.

The State Press has been unanimous in their denunciations of the action of the Robinson Investigating Committee. The bold and outspoken Lincolnton News is one of the most pronounced in its condemnation. It says:

"Among the many acts of doubtful propriety passed by the last legislature, none seems to have been so universally condemned as the act of the Senate and its committee toward the Raleigh NEWS, The facts are: That the lieutenantgovernor stated to the Senate that inbers of the legislature to secure the public printing. A committee was appointed by the Senate to investigate the matter; and after ascertaining the facts they branched off to inquire who wrote the editorials in the NEWS in regard to the western extention of the North Carolina Railroad. Here the cat was let out of the bag, and the motives of the committe and its movers were showed. What business was it of the committee who wrote for the NEWS? The recoil has been terrible. Instead of injuring the party aimed at, the committee have been destroyed in public estimation.

To go back, however-what was it of the Senate if threats had been made to secure the public printing by any one not connected with that body They had no power over an outsider; and to grant such a committee, in the first instance was undignified on the part of this body.

The Democratic party cannot succeed if it suffers itself to engage in such proceedings to gratify the mal.cious feelings of a few men.

John Dewerse, This notorious carpet-bagger once represented this district in Congress. His resignation under threats of expulsion is well remembered. His remarks on that occasion published in the NEWS this morning, for the first time, form a part of the history of the Republican party, and shows how unsophisticated eongressmen may be ensnared:

Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the Hundreds have done the same thing before and will do it again. I applied to the young man and returned the $500. Spring Millinery.

FASHIONS IN BONNETS AND THEIR ADORNMENTS.

This is millinery week and we ar blooming all over with new bonnets not on our heads, oh, no, but in the shop windows and millinery show-rooms. No one wears spring straw bonnets until Easter, but very many have been tempted by the lovely colors and the pretty display which they make into what is unusual with city esidents, a parchase at an "opening." "How lovely!" or "How stylish!" marks every individual member of every group of lady inspectors, and "What quantities of trimming!" But the colors and fabrics the saleswoman explains "are so soft and so becoming," besides the increased quantity is rendered necessary by the size of the crowns and the projecting brims, which show a decided tendency towards a return to the old-fashioned "coal scuttle." All sorts of old shapes are revived and there is a bewildering mixture of straws and chips into which color, in more or less quantity, is introduced. But the fine, soft ivory and elicate mastic in chip and beautiful Leghorns, the latter often pieced with lace holes, are the favorites and in much better taste than the beads o splashes of color in the braid of the

The best effects produced by the former consists of small cut beads in the exact color or shade of the straw, and which seem to be a part of it excep where they catch the light. A perfect spectrum of color is found in a rough and ready straw, which combines all the fashionable shades of ivory, crimson, mastic, blue, brown, green, yellow, olive, and it is difficult to say how many more. The trimming of this bonnet consists of a plume which contains all the colors of the strands, and the strings are of satin, striped to match. But the loveliest bonnets are in the fine, delicate tinted chips, in trimming of which fewer and softer shades are intermingled-ivory and pale pink, mastic, brown and gold, with a touch of crimson and a light, pure shade of lemon with pale blue. The flowers are very beautiful, and are not confined to any particular class or style, either I had done wrong, and had done it small or large. They are as varied as without thought and unknowingly and the collections of the garden and the field, and apparently as real. They are also mounted in every form, as loose wreaths, as sprays, as bouquets, as masses for the top of the bonnet, in the form of an Alastian bow, whose place they occupy. The artificial roses provoke especial comment and win undisguised admiration. Instead of the conventional styles formerly exhibited, they are perfect copies of the loose, long-stemmed, Euglish roses, as seen tions never thinking I was doing wrong. long-stemmed, Euglish roses, as seen So far as the $500 is concerned it is of in the florists windows, and can be no consequence I have money enough called by name as readily. Platings of Breton lace enter largely into the trimming of the summer bonnets, and are used as a sort of veiling to the flowers, as well as in large loops upon the crown and scarf strings to fasten under the coin upon the front of the dress. Satin, fashionable as it has been, is more fashionable than ever. It is used for shirred interior lining as well as for trimming. It appears in ribbons striped in many colors, and is also used cut from the piece, in the single color and in a combination of several colors. The trimm'ug is usually mounted upon the top or high upon the side, so as to droop over the crown. But there are some charming spring bonnets, the crowns of which are encircled by a broad, full plume, the ends of which, uniting at the back, are concealed by a cluster of pale yellow or mixed roses. The brim of these is not so flaring; it is smaller and finished, in addition to the living, by an interior plaiting of Breton lace. The "Pinatore" is a wasking hat, a sort of Gainsborough, turned up on one side, with a facing of black velve mounted with a white satin butterfly bow. A broad scarf of velvet enriches the drooping side of the crown, and is studded with steel stars. Another white satin bow is placed at the back. The special features of the 'Pinafore' seem to be the shape, the butterfly bows, the studded scarf and the conjunction of satin and velvet in the trimming to the exclusion of feathers and flowers. The same design is made up

The Alsatian bows which have been such a rage are utilized by many ladies as a spring trimming for intermediate bonnets, with a lining for the brim, an Alsatian bow on the top and a satin hand at the back; a black or dark straw is complete, at least sufficiently so for the uses to which a bonnet of this description is put. Veils, it is to be observed, are gradually going out of existence. Very few ladies now wear them compared with mained a whole week to transact im- these that wore them formerly, physicians having of late years very properly interdicted the use of dotted veils in many cases on account of the injurious effect upon the eyes. Strips of gauze are occasionally restorted to as a protection from wind and dust, but the black veils, with their irritating dots, are now fortunately very rarely seen.

Evarts to Kesign, Dispatch to the Philadelphia Times.

WASHINGTON, March 21. The report is again started that Mr. Evarts is soon to eave the Cabinet and return to the practice of his profession. The reason given this time is that he cannot afford to continue in office, as he is not a man of fortune and his law busin ss is gradually drifting away from him. The report is strengthened by another to the effect that Mr. Evarts has given up his house here and will vacate it during the next two months. Mr. Evaris could not be found to-night to affirm or deny the report, but other members of the Cab-met say that it is all bosh and that the Cabinet will remain intact until the ose of the administration,

The temporary suspension of the banks at New Orleans in order to check the panic in that city, and the prompt relief extended by the New York banks, will probably bridge over the difficulty. It appears there was a general run upon the banks to withdraw deposits. The cause seems to have been the belief that, two of the smaller banks, the Southern, with a capital of $334,500, and the Mechanics and Traders,' the stock of which is $300,000, were in a crippled condition. This, as usual at such times, alarmed people as to the other banks, which are said to be perfectly solvent. The Clearing-House Association, fearing the con sequences of a panic as to the two banks named above, took action to protect their weak associates. The course of the Clearing-House of New Orleans is similar to that of the banks of New York in the crisis that followed the Jay Cooke failure, except that hardly any deposits were paid here in cash at that time. In New Orleans not over $200 in cash will be paid to any depositor in one day during the temp rary suspension, which it is said will end next Saturday, the 29th. It will be remembered that in New York every one was paid by checks which were certified and passed by the Claying-House.
This saved the New York backs. The New Orleans banks have adopted the same plan. There is little doubt that the depreciation in Louisiana and New Orleans bonds (which are held largely by the banks), on account of the nonpayment of interest, has been one of the causes of the trouble. The impression among bankers and business men in this city is that the New Orleans banks will soon get over their difficul-ty. In fact, both they and the Secretary of the Treasury will do what they can to prevent any disturbance at the present improving and hopeful period

Suicide in Chesterfield S. C.

Monroe Enquirer. We learn from a gentleman direct from the section in which the tragic affair occurred, that a man by the name of Mack Hill, who resides eighteen miles south of this place, in Chester-field county, S. C., suicided by drowning himself in a well upon his premises in the early part of the morning of Tuesday last, 18th inst., and before any member of his household had arisen from bed. His wife and other residents of the place, upon going about their daily duties shortly after he had gone out, were skocked and horrified to iscover the suicide's bloated body in well, and in his long premeditated and preconcerted death the result of an aberated mind, superinduced, per-haps, by the use of alcoholic spirits, he having been addicted to the habit of drunkenness for several years, and in fits of mental depression produced by sprees of dissipation, had been frequently heard to express his determin ation to take his life, but his threats were regarded as meaningless, and was little dreamed by his family would be carried into execution at the time of the sad occurrence, he having abstained from drinking of intoxicating liquors for several weeks prior to com-mitting the rash act, and displayed no mental trouble, but, on the contrary, was apparently in good spirits. The following are the charges filed against Senator Ingalls, of Kansas:
"That the said logalls secured his election by acts of bribery and corruption, and that, by himself and his agents, acts of bribery and corruption were resorted to to induce a large number of the members of the Legis lature to vote for said Ingalls. Als that an investigation by a Committee of the House of Representatives of Kansas was partial and incomplete, because of want of time to secure competent witnesses and the want of power to compel their attendance. That E. L. Smith, the General Manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Torpeka, although legally smmon-ed, refused to testify before said committee, and also refused to produce a large number of important telegrams sent and received by Ingalls. That Hon. T. H. Hancock, a member of the House from Crawford county, was approached personally by Ingalls, and offered $1,000 for his vote, and that subsequently Hancock, signed statement that he was thus approached —that $500 was to be paid down, and $500 the 1st. of March. Continuing, Hancock says: "I was referred by Mr. Ingalls to J. Merritt and J. Wilson, who paid me $500, and Ingalls agreed to pay me the remaining $500 on the 1st. of March."

It is also charged that J. B. Clogston, a member from Greenwood County, was offered $500, and George O. Mc-Clintock, from McPherson County, $800; that T. J. Reybill, of Greenwood County, was paid $250 to vote for Ingalls; that George L. White, of Ropublic County, was offered $500; H. C. Fisher, of Harper county, $250; that John R. Akinson, of Jewett County, was offered $1,000; and W. L. Wait, of Lincoln county, $500.

The Greenback Party. Of the House of Representatives, as a distinctive organization, is composed of the fourteen gentlemen who voted for Hendrick B. Wright for Speaker in hats all of one color—aimond shades and Wright himself. They are: Barlow for example—brown and black.

One was all of one color—aimond shades and Wright himself. They are: Barlow of Vermont, De La Matyr of Indiana, Murch and Ladd of Maine, Ford, o Missouri, Forsythe and Stevenson, o Illinois, Gi lette and Weaver, of Iowa, Kelley and Yocum, of Pennsylvania, ones, of Texas, Lowr, o | Alabama, and Russell, of North Carolina. There has been a good deal of curiosity to know where these men would go on a tested political question between Republicans and Democrats. The opportunity to show their hands was given them today in the case of the admission of Hull or Bisbee as Representative of the Second District of Florida, and all, with the exception of Ladd, of Maine, cast in their lot with the Republicans. The first resolution voted on was offered by Tye, of Maine, and proposed to send the case to the Election Committee when appointed, neither contestant to be allowed to take a seat in the meantime. This proposition was defeated by a vote of 137 yeas, to 140 nays. Wright himself, who has always hither-to voted with the Democratic party, on this occ. ion united with the Greenbackers and the Republicans. The next question was on a resolution seating Hull, which was anopted by a vote of 140 to 136 Tue Greenbackers again, with the exception of Ladd and Wright, voted in the negative with the Republi cans. Ladd voted with the Democrats, while Wright did not vote at all. It would seem from these votes that the disposition of these men is to co-operate with the Republicans. Wanted.

Worcester's Dictionary

San ord's Series comprises four books, and is based upon the analytic system:
Sanford's irst Lessons in Analytical Arithmetic, 10 mo., 27 cents.
Sanford's Lessons in Analytical Arithmetic, 16 mo., 22 pp. Half bound, 45 cents.
Sanford's Common School Analytical Arithmetic, 35 pp. Half roan, 80 cents.
Sanford's Higher Analytical Arithmetic, hmo., 419 pp. Half roan. Cloth slues, $1.25.
The definitions are clear, and the analyses exhaustive. The work is practical, and abounds in state exercises. The experience of a large number of the best teachers in this coun ry, is tust, with Sanford in hand, pupils discover an unwonted enthusiasm in studying the science of numbers.

It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of navional fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicline ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent diviges who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and aptroval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapentical agent—East rs Religious Herald, Va.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 24.-SENATE. -A large number of bills were introduced, including several by Mr. Coke, one by Mr. Kellogg giving aid to certain railroads extending from Texas to specified points on the Rio Grande.

Salusbury's resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for information concerning negotiations of United States securities, the amount of interest, paid etc., was passed. A. motion was then made to proceed with the election of efficers of the Senate, An animated debate here sprung up.
Anthony said that nothing he could de would prevent the foregone conclusion of the majority to make a clean sweeping change of officers, not because it was demanded by duty, but because partzenship demanded it. As one who held in respect if not reverence the pracedents and usages of the Senate. He desired to enter his protest against the the personal inconvenience to which they would all be subjected to and disturbance of the order of business o the Senate which would occur by the abrupt change of officers. He mentioned the names of several officers of the Senate who had never been disturbed in their official relations to this

Hamlin, followed Anthony, saying that he hoped party spirit would not run riot in the Senate. Wallace replied that there was no intention to interfere with business or break down the life of the Senate. The majority only desired that the offices so long filled by the Republicans should be filled by gentlemen politically in accord with the majority of the Senate. They had gentlemen abundantly qualified to fill Conkling uttered his regrets at the fact that the officers of the Senate were to be displaced. Mr. Bayard was impressed with the speeca of Senator Anthony as it contained matters of historic interest. He regarded as dangerous and degrading the rewarding of partizans with Government places. . It had entered the civil service of the country and unless it should be in a great degree modified it would increase to the detriment of good government. The bestowal of office should be in consideration of the welfare of the country, dignity of the Government and purity of our institutions. The power of appointment to offices in this body had fallen to his party. He did not understand that it contemplated any such slaughter of innocents as was contemplated by the opposite side. Observation had shown that instead of Federal officers having been bestowed for the good of the country with capable and honest incumbents, they had been used for many years for the benefit of a single party. Those here who now complained never noglected to fill offices with their party friends. The debate was further participated in by Sena ors Beck, Blaine, Hill and others, and at a late hour the Senate proceeded to vote snd elected the officers recently nominated by the Democratic caucus.

Weavers on a Strire.

BLACKBURN, March 24 .- A detatied report of the meeting of Weavers at strong party in favor of a strike. Mr. Whalley, Secretary of the Weavers union for Blackburn, reported that two thirds of the masters had posted up notices of five per cent. reduction of wages but that masters were less unanimous than they were before the strike and lock out of 1878.

The Representatives of the operatives of the church are Oswald, Twistle, Harwood, Radiham, Clitheroy, Rishton, Bamberbridge and Buraley next gave reports to the effect that the general feeling in their districts favored submissions until favorable opportunily arose to recover a reduction. A motion was then submitted in favor of an acceptance of five per cent. reduction shall be restored as soon as possible. The amendment in favor of resistance by a strike if necessary met with much support.

A Disorderly scene followed. Two propositions for a strike were reported n ! cheered and opponent thereof hooted down seemed as though the maj >rity were about decided in favor of the strike when the motion for adjournment was proposed so that the feelings of the masters individually might be further tested. Advocates of the strike refused with the down proposal and the motion for adjournment not carried until four shows of hands and many appeals to meeting to be calm and not rashly planed into auother struggle.

Another Shooting Affray.

BALTIMORE, MD., March, 23.-Thom as Weldon ring leader of a mob engaged it attempting to rescue a prisoner from the custody of policeman Cheney, last night was shot and killed by police sergeat Harvey who in attempting to prevent the rescue was violently assaulted. The Coroner's Jury rendered a vordict of justifiable shooting.

The assailents comprised some of the greatest desperados of the city, and several of them have served terms in the penitentiary. After the shooting Cheny took his prisoner, Henry Hamill to the station house ..

A Tough Story.

st Paul Pioneer Press. George Tarr, an Illinois detective. stopping at St. Paul hotel over night, having just overhauled two desperate murderers. Tarr dreamed that one of his prisoners had escaped that he was chasing the fugitive, and awoke to find that he had jumped throgh the window of his room, taking the sash with him, and had fallen to a projecting roof several feet below. Realizing his strange position and dress, Tarr impulsively concluded to climb up the side of the house to his room, Gripping the cor-ner with one hand, and clawing the outside boards with the fingers of the other, and making a free use of his toe-nails, he actually succeeded in climbing up the wall like a scared cat, and entered his room without awakening any of the people about the botel. He loosened the nails on his hands and feet, however, leaving traces of the blood he lost on the side of the buildng and about his room, which estabwonderful ascent.

A Large Eagle.

Said eagle measured about seven and a half feet from tip to tip.

Rice and Tilden.

Frederick (Md.) Times. If Americus Vespucius Rice is the Democratic nominee for Governor of Ohio the canvass will be a thoroughly Anti-Tilden one. Mr. Ri e has small opinion of Tilden's coura e and financial opinions, and says the party has had Tilden influence enough for the p esent. Talk like that will shut off all contributions from the barrel for the Ohio campaign.

Had Caught Everything.

Reidsville Times.

Vance was shaking hands and being introduced to the different members at the close of the late session, in Washington, when somebody said something about "going home." Th t reminded Vance at once. "Do you remember old Timothy Davis?" he asked, "When we served together before the war he said to me, at the close of the session, "Well, Vance, I am going home, and I am glad of it, for I have caught every infernal thing since I've been here, from a bad cold down, except the Speaker's eye!" The Danger of Kerosene Lamps In view of the fact that Kerosene oil is now so generally used for lights, especially since the rise in the price of gas, the following from a medical jours nal is particularly worthy of attention. A merchant returned home about 2 o'clock at night and found his wife lying on the bed groaning heavily, and unconscious. She was awaiting his re-ture, and at last tired out, laid herself on the bed, after turning down the wick of a lighted kercsene lamp as low as possible without extinguishing it. bad, a vapor mixed with an innumerable quantity of specks of sut diffuses itself through the apartment and so covers the eyes, nose and respiratory organs, that on falling asleep one runs the risk of suffocation. It is always advisable, therefore, in the use of kerosene lamps to allow the wick to burn brightly or extinguish it entirely .-Charlotte Observer.

A NEW HYMN BOOK. - We have examined the Hymn-Book recently issued, entitled "Calvary Selection of Spiritual Songs," and are pleased with the refreshing variety of hymns, and the carefully studied adaptation of the same to the tunes. It meets a longfelt want in the churches, viz., a book that shall be equally good for cheir use or congregational praise. The general appearance of the book is neat, the music distinctly printed, and the arrangement of hymns and subject of hymns unusually fine, quite out of the ordinary routine. LANDRUM & LITCHFIELD. Abingdon, Va.

Mar. 10. Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a co'd is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. for samples and price list. Latta & Myatt, Wholesale Grocers. THE SOUTRERN STUDENTS' HAND-Book.—This contribution to our School Literature differs from all the so called 'Sonthern Speakers' heretofore printed, in this:-that its matter is exclusivety of Southern origin. But it makes no attempt at a complete survey of Southern oratory and literature, its chief aim being to represent, as fully as circumstances permit, the "New South" in oratory, dialectic, poetry and general literature, and omitting the hackneyed pieces which for more than half a century have done duty in all the Readers and Speakers in the land, as representative of the "Old South," thus presenting to our Schools a fresh and interesting compilation, illustrative of Southern life, s ntiment and thought in their best phases, during the excit, ing period through which the States have recently passed.
